Why salons are our showroom

The pitch in one line: your clients leave beautiful — let them leave sparkling.

Hands are the product

Fresh manicures make rings and bracelets sell themselves in the finishing chair.

25+

pitch targets on this list

Clients arrive event-ready

Blowouts, updos and facials mean weddings, galas and shows — jewelry moments, same day.

5

stops on W 46th St alone

Stylists are trusted advisors

A stylist's “that would look gorgeous on you” outsells any ad we could buy.

3

days to walk the whole map

Four ways a salon says yes

Pick one per venue — every model is zero inventory risk for the salon.

1 Countertop display case

A locked vitrine of 8-12 pieces on consignment. We stock, restock and insure it.

Salon earns 15-25% of every sale

2 Stylist referral code

Personal code on the mirror card; clients redeem online or in person.

Stylist earns a flat fee or % per redemption

3 “Jewels & Blowouts” nights

After-hours trunk show — we bring the sparkle and the bubbly, they bring the client list.

Salon earns event fee + % of the night

4 Bridal package tie-in

Bundle with bridal salons, blow-dry bars and hotel spas for the getting-ready market.

Referral fee per booked bride

Targets — hair & barbershops (10036)

Business	Address	Angle for the pitch
CityStar Hair Salon	875 Eighth Ave · (877) 875-5352	Open 7 days; heavy 8th Ave walk-in traffic
Hell's Kitchen Barbers	667 9th Ave · (212) 470-7204	High-end classic shop; men's gifting angle
HK Best Barbers	319 W 47th St · (646) 669-8002	Walk-in friendly; Theater District crowd
Barber Shop NYC	302 W 50th St (at 8th Ave)	Times Sq Alliance directory; open 7 days
Hells Kitchen Barbershop	Hell's Kitchen · see site for location	Premium cuts & hot-towel shaves

Barbershop angle: men buy chains, watches and gifts for partners. A “gift her something that outlasts the haircut” counter card converts.
